Star Tribune Names Trillium Woods a 2018 Top Workplace

List recognizes the most progressive companies in Minnesota based on employee opinions on engagement, organizational health and satisfaction

Plymouth, Minn. (June 25, 2018) – Trillium Woods, the Life Care Services® life plan community based in Plymouth, has been named one of the Top Workplaces in Minnesota by the Star Tribune. A complete list of those selected was published in the Star Tribune Top Workplaces special section on Sunday, June 24.

Produced by the same team that compiles the 27-year-old Star Tribune 100 report of the best-performing public companies in Minnesota, Top Workplaces recognizes the most progressive companies in Minnesota based on employee opinions measuring engagement, organizational health and satisfaction. The analysis included responses from over 71,000 employees at Minnesota public, private and nonprofit organizations.

“We are honored to be recognized as one of the Star Tribune’s Top Workplaces by our associates,” said Elizabeth Ann Fetner, executive director of Trillium Woods. “Our staff is committed to ensuring that Trillium Woods residents have a superior experience and access to the highest-quality care and services in the Twin Cities. We are extremely proud of creating an engaging, dynamic community culture for both our residents and our associates.”

The results of the Star Tribune Top Workplaces are based on survey information collected by Energage, formerly WorkplaceDynamics, an independent company specializing in employee engagement and retention. To qualify for the Star Tribune Top Workplaces, a company must have more than 50 employees in Minnesota. Over 2,400 companies were invited to participate. Rankings were composite scores calculated purely on the basis of employee responses.

“The companies in the Star Tribune Top Workplaces deserve high praise for creating the very best work environments in the state of Minnesota,” said Star Tribune Publisher Michael J. Klingensmith. “My congratulations to each of these exceptional companies.”
